EINTHE GOOD OLD DAYS & Upon the Pittsburgh Miners Depends Success or Failure.

> The Leaders of the United Mine Worker Willing to Engineer the Strike, But Co-operation is Necessary to Success.

Conumnus, O., July 6 .- President Ratchford of the United Mine Workers spent Monday at headquarters, but not many reports were received from the various mining districts throughout the country as to the progress of the strike. President Ratchford said it would require several days to receive has issued an order for two full regifull information on this point, as the district presidents would necessarily have to have time to communicate with the numerous locals before reporting definitely to national headquarters as to the completeness of the suspension. Monday being observed in many places as a national holiday will naturally retard the reports to some extent. Before the end of the present week, however, the national officers will have the information at hand as to the exact sitnation at all the mines in the country. If there should be any mines in opera-tion the officials will know their location, the number of men employed, and whether or not they are members of the miners' organization. The information which the national officers have at hand is of a general nature, and is to the effect that the miners have generally suspended work and the strike promises to be a success.
